Material requirement planning (MRP) is a plan for the production and purchase of the components used in making items in the master production schedule.

They have given billions of dollars to developing countries through the global environment facility and the clean development mechanism.

Why??? I looked for a pediatric specialist and the app said there were none.

This qualitative study elucidates the gendered aspects of betel quid chewing by examining how it links with masculine ideology among male betel quid chewers in Mandalay, Myanmar.

Intent is not part of the definition.